

Jocelyn DeMaio, Assistant Vice President of Workspace, Collaboration Services & End User Experience at the Hartford

Jocelyn DeMaio works as Assistant Vice President of Workspace, Collaboration Services & End User Experience at The Hartford. She is responsible for engineering and maintaining applications used by the enterprise such as Microsoft Teams, SharePoint, Email and Voice technologies. She also leads the virtual desktop service, mobile experience, conference room technologies, and audio-video event production. Her organization also places a strong focus on training, documentation and change management. Jocelyn is an engaged member of The Hartford's Professional Women's Network and served for three years on its leadership team. She also co-leads the Health & Wellness pillar of The Hartford's Women in Technology resource group. She is a leadership member of United Way Women United and is a member of their Women's Leadership Council. On top of it all, Jocelyn is a small business owner of a fitness studio, Empowered Indoor Cycling & Strength in Glastonbury, CT. She holds a Master of Science from Eastern Connecticut State University and a Bachelor of Arts from the University of Connecticut.

Jocelyn supports Women United because she believes in their mission to help others who are less fortunate. She is proud to partner with like-minded women who are also passionate about giving back to their community.